DNV GL has changed name to DNV

The information in this document is intended for Port State Authorities, Vetting Inspectors, Flag State Inspectors, Regulatory Authorities and all other stakeholders interested in the status of the Class and Statutory Certificates and other Class related certificates or documents of this vessel.

DNV GL has from March 1, 2021, changed name to DNV.

DNV hereby confirms:

1. Since this is only a rebranding of our company it has no impact on certificates issued. Class and Statutory Certificates and other Class related certificates or documents issued using the name "DNV GL" (including relevant supporting documents approved by DNV GL), will continue to remain valid also after March 1, 2021, unless they become invalid pursuant to the Rules of the classification society or the applicable statutory regulations.
2. In the future, certificates will be issued, and endorsements will be made using the new brand DNV. However, certificates, stamps and seals branded with DNV GL may be in use for a period of time to issue, endorse or verify alterations in certificates and supporting documents
3. For the mark of authority (letters next to the load line mark) on the ship's side, "NV", "GL" and "VL" shall be regarded as approved abbreviations for DNV and will continue to remain valid

Sincerely
for DNV AS
